Lauren Cohen

The 'Navigating Across Borders' Speaker

Professional BIO

Lauren Cohen was born and raised in Toronto, Canada and now resides in Boca Raton, FL with her 10-year-old son, Zevi. Lauren is a graduate of Osgoode Hall Law School and York University, also in Toronto. She worked as an in-house corporate attorney for various financial and healthcare institutions like CitiGroup and many others for over a decade. Today, Lauren is an International Lawyer, Realtor, Foreign Investor & Immigration Expert, and the Founder of e-Council Global and several affiliated entrepreneurial companies. She is the Bestselling author of 'Finding Your Silver Lining in the Business Immigration Process', and launched her own podcast, INVESTING ACROSS BORDERS, in late 2020.

After her then-husband's deportation on the return trip from their honeymoon, Lauren was devastated. Realizing that so many others suffer a similar plight due to a lack of proper guidance and strategic planning, Lauren felt compelled to find solutions and decided to make a difference, so Lauren turned to the crazy and dynamic world of immigration and international law.

Lauren would go through two other major pivotal moments in her life, the birth of her miraculous son and the passing of her beloved father. Through both grief and joy, she pressed on in her passion to help and guide others in developing sound investment and cross-border strategies designed to address both their business and personal goals.

Lauren now travels the world virtually and through live events helping men and women professionally and personally by sharing her signature programs 'Eight Steps to Successfully Investing Across Borders' and 'Ten Steps to Immigrate Through Real them create customized strategies to invest across borders and obtain immigration through real estate and business investment, navigating the complex path so that they can successfully invest, live, work and play across borders.
